

Please adhere to the following terms of use:

- Each image is property of the city Kiel or of the photographer and foto agencies producing for it, respectively. Every image is liable to restricted terms of use. All images can be used for press issues exclusively. This service is free.
- All other forms of publishing or using our images is generally not allowed. Exceptions are subject to negotiation.
- Using our images constantly pledges you to name the source of the image (Kiel, capital of Schleswig-Holstein and the name of the fotographer).
- The images may, exclusively, be used for editorial purposes and when covering Kiel or Kieler-Woche topics.
- Using our images for commercial adds is not allowed.
- The editing rights of the images are restricted. You may change the size, colour, contrast, light and the color space. All other changes need authorization of the editorial staff of the city Kiel and/or the fotographer.
- There is no property release to the images.
- The images may not be used for discriminating purposes and purposes that are contradictory to the German constitution.
- The images may not be saved permanently on any kind of media. The images may be used online for one year only.
- Those who hold the rights for the images will charge you for all violation of these terms of use.
